WOULD MITIGATE NOISE OF EARLY MILK DELIVERIES

William McNeal Speaker at Chamber of Commerce Meeting.

In spite of the extremely bad conditions for travel, the Arlington Chamber of Commerce held a full meeting in Wyman's English Tavern Tuesday evening. The speaker was William A. McNeal, master of the Arlington Heights postal station, and a member of the chamber.

Prominent Citizens Point Out Need Of Scouting Here

To the Citizens of Arlington:

After a careful study of the work of Sachem Council in behalf of the boys of this community, we, the undersigned have organized a Citizens' Committee to present to the public the value and the need of the Boy Scout Program.

While this program is reaching a large number of boys in the area served by Sachem Council, a recent survey shows that many more boys would like to become Scouts. They

HUGE ARLINGTON CROWD ENJOYS PRESIDENT'S BALL

Five Hundred Dollars Raised. Fund Still Open, Says Chairman.

Nearly twelve hundred tickets were sold for the President's Birthday Ball which was held last Thursday evening, and apparently most of the ticket-holders availed themselves of the opportunity of enjoying a colorful spectacle, for Robbins Memorial Town Hall was crowded to capacity. It has been reported that close to six hundred dollars has been collected, and that the net sum of five hundred dollars will be realized.

Narrowly Escapes Unnamed Grave

After lying in the morgue for two days, the body of Michael W. Evanluk, who was killed in Arlington last Friday night when he was hit by an automobile, was finally identified by Chief of Police Ralph Hawkes of Templeton.

Chief Bullock of the Arlington police says that in a few hours Evanluk would have been buried without identification. He has since used the case as an argument

PHIL ROBINSON IS CANDIDATE FOR TOWN CLERK

Also Candidate for Same Office—Another Robinson

Philip T. Robinson, who is the youngest son of the late Thomas J. Robinson, Arlington's town clerk for more than twenty years, has announced his candidacy for the office once filled by his father.

Philip Robinson was born in Arlington and graduated from Ar-

BRANDS NON-GOTT MEN AS TRAITORS TO ORGANIZATION

Wunderly Rallies Crowded Citizen's Committee Meeting. Candidate Gott Predicts Election of Entire Slate.

The headquarters of the Arlington Citizen's Committee at 1195 Massachusetts avenue was packed to the doors last Monday evening when the candidates nominated by the committee the previous week each gave a talk to the gathering.

Albert W. Wunderly, candidate for Moderator, was called upon to speak first, but was not present at the time. He therefore spoke last, but not least. He did not mention his own candidacy, but spoke aggressively in favor of the entire slate. He said that it was about time that the Citizen's Committee saw to it that the men whom they elected to office did as they were expected to do. He urged the undivided support of the group behind Hollis M. Gott for Selectman, saying that the board needed the force and determination that Representative Gott would bring to the office.

Mr. Wunderly further stated that any of the present incumbents who had been sponsored by the Citizen's Committee in the past and who now failed to back the candidacy of Rep. Gott and the rest of the slate of the Citizen's Committee were traitors to the organization which had elected them. The speaker then recited the qualifications of the leading candidates,

UNIVERSALISTS TO WELCOME NEW PASTOR THIS SUNDAY

Will Preach First Sermon in Honor of 26th Anniversary of Scouting, and the 22nd for Arlington's Troop 1.

Sunday, February 9th, has a promise for the future of all Arlington Universalists, for on that day they will welcome to the pastorate of their church, Rev. Robert M. Rice, a young man from the middle west, and the northwest, a young man who has sufficient background and experience to undertake and fulfill the task of placing the church in the foreground among the circle of friendly churches in Arlington.

Frank Lansing Out For Planning Board

FRANK H. LANSING

Frank H. Lansing, who has been very active in town affairs for the past four years, being a town meeting member of some prominence and chairman of the efficient transportation committee of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce, has announced himself as a candidate for the unexpired term on the Planning Board. He is also president of the aggressive Precinct 13 Improvement Association.

Local Bank Clerk Now Awaits Trial

Having been brought back from Miami by a deputy marshal from the United States Department of Justice, Ralph Rich now awaits trial in the Federal Court. The Arlington bank clerk, who is said to have absconded from the National Bank of this town with $1450, gave himself up in Miami last Monday and is alleged to have confessed to taking the money for his own use.

At the time he gave himself up he had only seventy-five cents in his pocket. The rest, he said, had been lost at the dog and horse tracks.

Independent

Ye Lantern was filled Sunday afternoon with those who are interested in the candidacy of George H. Lowe, Jr., for re-election to the Board of Selectmen. It is understood that Mr. Lowe is tying up with no one in the campaign. He intends to run independently.

It seems that John K. Winner, independent candidate for Town Clerk, intends to remain in the race. An enthusiastic meeting in the interest of his candidacy was held Tuesday night with many prominent men present.

Expect No Decrease In Welfare Cases

Clifford W. Cook, agent of the town Welfare Department, presented an informative address at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club yesterday noon at the Middlesex Sportsman's Association Clubhouse. His report of conditions in Arlington was summed up when he answered the question of Rev. John Nicol Mark by stating that there had been as yet no notable return of welfare recipients to private industry and employment.

The speaker made it clear that the normal sharp increase in welfare cases was arrested by government relief projects so that instead of increasing, the number of families now on relief is about the same as for the two years previous. Mr. Cook gave this figure for 1935 as 893 families involving a total expenditure by the town of

No Bad Accidents Despite Icy Streets

In spite of icy streets Tuesday night and yesterday morning, not a single bad automobile accident was reported in Arlington during that time. The only crash which reached the ears of the police was that of an automobile operated by Francis E. Bellizio of 66 Columbia road, which skidded into a pole in front of 794 Massachusetts avenue Wednesday noon. Bellizio was thrown out of the car and injured his shoulder. The machine was badly damaged and had to be towed away.

SMALL CROWD HEARS BEST SYMPHONY CONCERT THUS FAR

Icy Streets Keep Patrons at Home. Audience Moved to Loud Applause by Mildred Brookings, Soprano Soloist.

First it snowed and then rained all day Tuesday and in the evening when the Community Symphony Orchestra of Arlington was to play its second concert of the third season, the roads and sidewalks were glassy with ice. Consequently the crowd which turned out to hear the concert in Robbins Memorial Town Hall could hardly be called a crowd at all. Many of the season ticket holders and those who had purchased in the advance sale failed to put in an appearance.

Those who did attend, however, heard one of the most enjoyable and certainly the most finished performance that the orchestra had yet attained. The director, Leonard Wood, had chosen an all-German program, featuring Brahms and Wagner, yet the offerings were extremely varied.

Workers Sign For Boy Scout Drive

In order to bring scouting to 200 or 300 more boys who are clamoring for it, Sachem Council, B. S. A., has adopted for its objective for next year 18 new troops.

The organization of these troops and more cub packs, together with long-delayed and necessary improvements at Camp Sachem, Antrim, N. H., and the extension of the Senior Scout program, will be stressed next year. And to provide funds for these projects, the Council, which serves this district will start the 1936 financial drive simultaneously in Arlington, Belmont, Bedford, Lexington, Lincoln, Watertown and Concord on February 10.

The drive, under the leadership

Postpone Inspection of New Legion Post

The local post, American Legion, has decided to postpone the public inspection of its new home, which was formerly the Grand Army Hall, until the evening of February 19. The opening night for Legionnaires, however, will be as planned, this evening. The next regular meeting of the organization will be in the new quarters Tuesday evening, February 18.

It has been announced that the service extended to veterans of the World War on the adjusted compensation certificates will be available the rest of this week. So far there has been an average of 65 applicants a day at the post.

GIVE ASTOUNDING PERFORMANCE OF "SMILIN' THROUGH"

Those who flocked to see "Smilin' Through" in Robbins Memorial Town Hall last Friday evening prepared to view the play with amused tolerance, must have been astounded at the performance of the members of the Arlington High School Dramatic Club, which presented the entertainment. Arlington has produced a fine crop of actors and actresses in the past, and it now becomes apparent that a brand new group is coming up, taking long strides on the way. Congratulations were showered on the directors, Claire H. Johnston

Obituaries

JAMES F. MALLOY

The many friends of James A. and Katherine L. (Oxnard) Malloy of 246 Mystic Valley parkway, sympathize with them in the death of their thirteen-year-old son, who died Sunday at Symmes Arlington Hospital of acute gangrenous appendicitis. James was born in Medford, but the family has lived in Arlington for the past ten years. He was a student at St. Agnes Parochial School.

Funeral services were held from his home yesterday morning, and high mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Agnes Church. Burial was in Mt. Benedict Cemetery, West Roxbury.

EDWARD EVERETT COYE

Funeral services for Edward Everett Coyo, who died of a cerebral hemorrhage on January 29, at his home, 67 Harlow street, where he had lived for twelve years, were held from his late residence last Friday afternoon. Interment was in the Cambridge Cemetery.

Mr. Coyo was born in Cambridge seventy-five years ago, the son of William J. and Rebecca (Tolman) Coyo. Until he retired in 1933 he had for some years been employed as a church sexton. He was the husband of Ida (Hubbard) Coyo.

MRS. GEORGE FOREST

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Forest, the wife of George Forest, were held Monday morning from her late home at 76 Magnolia street. Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, North Cambridge, and burial was in the Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

Mrs. Forest, who passed away on January 31 following a shock, was born in Canada sixty-four years ago, the daughter of Marah and Mary (Boudreau) Sampson. She had lived in Arlington for a short time.

MRS. PATRICK J. MCCARTHY

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary McCarthy, were held Tuesday morning from her late residence, 35 Lewis avenue, and high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Agnes Church. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Mrs. McCarthy passed away at her home last Sunday at the age of sixty-eight. She was born in County Cork, Ireland, daughter of David and Mary Twigg, and had lived in Arlington for the past twelve years.

WILLIAM CANAVAN

Monday marked the death of William Canavan who had for some years been employed in the Public Works department of the town of Arlington. He died at his home following a cerebral hemorrhage. Funeral services were held from his house at 137 Palmer street yesterday morning and solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Agnes Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Boston.

Mr. Canavan was born in Ireland sixty-one years ago, the son of John and Katherine (Hession) Canavan. He came to this country as a young lad and had lived in Arlington for the past eleven years.

ARTHUR E. GUNNERSON

The many Arlington friends of Arthur E. Gunnerson were shocked last week to learn of his death from pneumonia after an illness of two weeks. Mr. Gunnerson lived most of his life in Arlington and attended Arlington schools, where his quick friendliness made him very popular. Following his graduation from high school, he became associated with the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, where he was employed at the time of his death.

Mr. Gunnerson was born in Cambridge thirty-two years ago, the son of John and Hilda Gunnerson. When he was a small lad the family moved to Arlington and made their home on Oakland avenue. In junior high school and later in high school he participated in athletics, playing on the basketball team. Five years ago he married Florence Eldridge of Chatham and lived first in Cambridge and then at 109 Charles River Bank road, Newton, which was his home at the time of his death on January 25.

Funeral services were held three days later at the A. E. Long Memorial Chapel in Cambridge, with Rev. Charles Taber Hall officiating. Mr. Hall is rector of St. John's Church, where Mr. Gunnerson was confirmed and later married.

Besides his wife, Mr. Gunnerson leaves his parents, a sister, Helen, and a brother, J. Herbert Gunnerson of Webster street.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Patriotic Rally of D. A. R.

The following invitation has been extended by the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution:

Girl Scouts! Come and bring your parents and friends to the Patriotic Rally in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, Arlington, at 8 o'clock Friday night, February 21.

Why? To see 7 Girl Scouts of Troop 6 awarded their Girl Home-makers' badges, and to see their exhibit, which shows the work of these badges. The awards are to be made by the National chairman of the D. A. R. committee, Mrs. Lester Daniels.

To hear the High School Orchestra.

To hear Orton Davis talk about the part of the United States in the affairs of the world.

Admission free, but bring a smile and a snappy hurrah for Arlington Girl Scouts.

Winter Carnival, February 8

The bus for East Arlington and Center Troops will leave Old Town Hall at 9 a. m. Saturday, and will stop at Kensington Park on the way to Cedar Hill. The next trip will be for the Heights Troops, and will leave the corner of Park and Massachusetts avenues at 9.40, stopping also at the Standpipe.

Captains are asked to notify the office by Thursday how many are planning to attend. Skis, snowshoes, and sleds may be rented. There will be a negligible charge for toboggan rides.

A short girl scout reel is being shown at the Capitol Theatre the latter part of this week.

Troop 1

Troop 1 again has Scoutmaster Basti as their guest. Owing to the fact that he was teaching us a little more on how to have good patrols we passed very few things. Most of the girls in first class are now training tenderfoots, but some are taking judging. Yesterday the first aid class was taught the correct way to put on a bandage for sprained ankles. Over half the troop intend to go to the Winter Carnival.

—Betty Mahoney.

Troop 3

Captain Frost did not come to the meeting and there was a substitute captain instead. We had color formation and sang songs and rounds. The new captain also told us some facts about a hostess.

and table setting. We didn't have classes because the regular teachers didn't come.

—Jeanne Garcelon.

Troop 4—East Arlington

Meeting was held in Junior High East, January 29. Miss Cobb gave a very interesting talk on nature. Three girls received their scout pins, Bernice Crowell, Nancy Heeger, and Rosemary Farrell.

—Kathryn R. Hauser.

Troop 5

The last meeting of the troop was under the leadership of Mrs. Hughes. The girls decided to postpone their pathfinding until warmer weather, and take up nature. The troop is planning a Valentine Party.

—Dorothy Perkins.

Troop 6

Because of a misunderstanding, the Handymen's class, which was to begin this week, was not held. Mr. Lowe is to teach us the badge, which is the last thing that most of the scouts have to pass in order to get the Daughters of the American Revolution award, to be given to the girls on February 21st at the D. A. R. public meeting.

—Laura Jean Rood.

Troop 7

At the beginning, four patrols discussed four laws. Later some girls passed observation, and one passed signalling. Some of our girls are working on first aid, and dressmaker outsider. The meeting was closed with a song.

—Mary Dodge.

Troop 8

We opened our last meeting with singing. After the troop business, we went to our classes. Because of the absence of Mary Baird, map-making instructor, those girls learned a song. Classes in nature and first aid were given by Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Power. Eleanor Watts and Natalie Shaw were invested. We did not have as many cookie orders as we had anticipated. We sang taps and then went happily home.

—Betty A. Evans.

Troop 9

For our classes today we had compass and knots. Some of the older girls taught these. Quite a few cookie orders were taken; Virginia Maxwell sold the most in the troop.

—Greta Safgren.

Troop 11

We were honored today by a visit from Miss Betty Pierce of the Guild House. Several of our girls are attending classes there, and report great fun. The first aid class is progressing finely as is the Junior citizen. The troop is quite busy.

—Mary Guinan.

Attention has been called to the splendid discipline in this troop, as noted by various visitors. Perhaps the following promise, which is signed by every girl in the troop, may explain: "I promise on my Girl Scout Honor, to behave myself going to and from the auditorium and during both classes, the First Aid and the Junior Citizenship; to obey the Leaders who are good enough to give up their time to teach me, and by so doing to please my Captain, my Lieutenant, and Miss Smart. I will be worthy of Troop 11."

Mrs. Harold Bond is captain; the troop meets at the Parmenter School Mondays.

Troop 12

There were twelve girls invested on February 3 by Miss McGowan. Ice cream and cake were served. Miss McGowan taught some new games which the girls all enjoyed immensely. New Scout songs were also taught. Each week much progress is being made in the dressmaking classes. We are all turning out many fine dresses.

—Loretta MacCarthy.

Troop 14

The meeting was held February 3 at the Hardy School. Tenderfoot girls are studying birds now, and compass work. They had an interesting and amusing game, called "shipwreck". The second class girls are digging into first aid quite hard, and are expected to get their badges in the near future.

—Navart Avakian.

Troop 13

Troop 13 met as usual on Wednesday, January 29, in the Library Hall at 7:30 p. m. There were 15 members present, our captain, and Mr. Kidder, who is training us for the Electrician's badge. We were requested last time to bring an electric light cord, and those who did had a hard time taking it apart, and putting it back together again. Mr. Kidder, who has been with us for a few weeks, will come next time, to give a general review of the whole course. We left at 8.45 p. m.

—Virginia Flanders.

Troop 15

After the opening we played a bean bag game. Then Lieut. Rowell gave us a true and false test—something which we hadn't studied.

Captain Dallin had us play a bird game. She showed us the feeding stations. Closing, we sang taps.

—Ruth Henrickson.

Attendance prizes were awarded, after a drawing at closing time, as follows:

Miss Eva Murray, 36 Lakehill avenue, an electric food mixer; Neil McPadden, 73 Webster street, an electric sandwich toaster set; Mrs. Joseph M. McMath, 76 Webster street, a "Nesco" electric casserole.

Wm. Gillette's Play Opens In Boston Monday

A dramatic event of potential significance and one which Boston is especially proud, is the return to the stage of William Gillette, that grand stalwart of the theatre, under the managerial banner of John Golden, in "3 Wise Fools", a delightful comedy by Austin Strong.

The fact that Boston has been chosen by Mr. Gillette as the city in which to inaugurate this event—for two weeks commencing Monday, February 10th, at the Shubert Theatre—makes for an auspicious occasion in the Hub's theatrical history.

In "3 Wise Fools" he has a character that fits him with the nicety of the proverbial glove, and one in which he asserts he is especially happy.

John Golden has surrounded Mr. Gillette with an all-star cast, including James Kirkwood, the favorite star of stage, screen and radio; Charles Coburn, one of the outstanding stars of classic and modern drama; Brandon Tynan, brilliant actor and dramatist; Elizabeth Love, an exquisite young actress of stellar timber and artistry; John Blair, Isabel Irving, William Post, Jr., John McKee, Scott Moore, Addison Pitt and many others.

$75,000 TOO HIGH

pupil. The same figure for the group was $1.06 per pupil. This means that, over the four year period, Arlington spent about 52% more per pupil for text books than was justified by the experience of the control group.

Other Expenses

Column #19. This column shows other expense of instruction, that is, expense for instruction other than general control, salaries, and cost of text books. Arlington spent $21,997. for this purpose. This is more money in total than was spent by any community in the control group except Quincy which has twice as many pupils as Arlington. It amounts to $3.24 per pupil. The average of the control group is $1.88 per pupil. Conclusion: Arlington spent 71% more for this purpose than is justified by the experience of the control group.

Miscellaneous Expense

Column #27. The title of this column is self-explanatory. Arlington spent $6,099. Compared to other items the amount is small. Yet, the other comparable communities find it possible to report much smaller amounts. Malden and Everett report no expense under this heading. Medford reports $596. Watertown, $214.

Janitors, Fuel & Miscellaneous

Column #20. This title is also self-explanatory. The per pupil average for the control group is $9.10 for the year. Arlington spent $73.124. or $10.80 per pupil. Conclusion: Arlington spent 18.7% more for this purpose than is justified by the experience of the control group.

Repairs, Replacements & Upkeep

Column #21. This column obviously covers the expense of keeping buildings in repair. The per pupil average for the group was $1.99 for the year. Arlington spent $4.60 per pupil. In addition Arlington had the benefit of much ERA and CWA work under this heading, plus the Town expense for tools, etc. Very likely other towns had similar aid. Nevertheless, the fact remains that Arlington spent 131% more for this purpose than is justified by the experience of the control group.

Ability to Pay vs. Cost

Thus far our investigation has been confined to comparison of costs. We have compared Arlington's expenditure with that of the seventeen other communities most like Arlington in valuation, school membership and population. The comparison is sound. All of these towns, whether richer or poorer than Arlington, buy their instructional service, text books, janitor service, repairs, etc., in the same market, and their costs are justly subject to comparison.

But Arlington is ahead of some of the group in its ability to pay; therefore I propose to take from the control group of seventeen the ten wealthiest communities and compare Arlington with them.

For this purpose I will use three columns from the State Report:

1st Column 32: This column shows the valuation per pupil of average school membership for the period that we are studying. In other words it shows the valuation of the town divided by the number of pupils in the schools and is, therefore, the very best measure of the available wealth of the community for school purposes.

2nd. Column 39: This shows the expenditure from local taxation per pupil. Please note that it is expenditure from local taxation only. The expenditure per pupil of money received from all sources usually runs $8.00 per pupil higher than the figures in this column.

3rd. Column 34: This shows the expenditure for school support from local taxation per $1000. of valuation. It is a very accurate measure of the financial sacrifice made by the community to support its schools.

The list follows:

	COL. 32	COL. 39	COL. 34
	Valuation per pupil	Support per pupil from local taxation	Expenditure for school support from local taxation per $1000. valuation
Holyoke	$12,209.00	$83.02	$6.80
Fitchburg	10,258.00	81.10	7.91
Salem	10,048.00	75.64	7.53
Beverly	9,971.00	94.28	9.45
Waltham	9,197.00	67.86	7.38
Arlington	9,024.00	88.06	9.76
Quincy	8,716.00	73.36	8.42
Lawrence	8,403.00	75.43	8.98
Everett	8,087.00	70.47	8.71
Watertown	7,909.00	74.27	9.39
Malden	7,901.00	71.06	8.99
	$101,723.00	$854.55	$93.32
Deduct Arlington	9,024.00	88.06	9.76
Group Total	$92,699.00	$766.49	$83.56
Group Average	$9,269.90	$76.65	$8.35

This tabulation is the essence of the report. It tells the whole story in compact form. Note that Arlington is 6th in valuation, 2nd in per pupil support, and 1st in expense per $1000. valuation. Note that Arlington spent $1.41 more in its tax rate for schools than the average expenditure of the group.

If compared on the basis of support per pupil, Arlington is 14.9% higher than the average of the group. This amounts to about $75,000 for the year. If compared on the basis of expenditure per $1000. of valuation, Arlington is 16.9% higher than the average of the group. This amounts to about $85,000. for the year.

Conclusion: Arlington spent between $75,000. and $85,000. more than was justified by the experience of the

ARLINGTON SCORES UPSET BY DEFEATING STONEHAM, 3-0

Roger Keefe Starts Rout with Accurate Penalty Shot.
Dutton Stars in Net for Locals.

By J. Leo Donohue

The Arlington High hockey team confounded the experts by defeating Stoneham last Saturday afternoon in the Boston Garden by a score of 3 to 0. Arlington outclassed Stoneham throughout the game and really got rolling in the second period when the local lads put on one of the greatest exhibitions of schoolboy hockey that has ever been seen in the Garden.

The first period was a dull and monotonous affair. Arlington had a chance to score when Stoneham was a man shy, but seemed to lack the supreme effort needed. In the same period Arlington was two men shy, but Stoneham was farther away from scoring than was Arlington.

In the second period the Arlington pucksters started their offensive attack, with Roger Keefe at the helm. Howie Truesdale, the Stoneham goalie, unnecessarily held the puck, and a penalty shot was called. Roger Keefe was elected by Coach Downes to take the shot and he came through with a smashing drive that had Truesdale stumped. This sudden change in the game unsettled Stoneham to such an extent that she started to play wide open hockey. In his haste to get the puck Cliff Thompson of Stoneham was sent off the ice for slashing. With a one man advantage, Arlington put on a four man rush with Lane carrying. Lane took the puck up the entire length of the ice and then passed to Joe Flores as he entered the Stoneham defense zone, and the latter flipped the puck over Truesdale's prostrate body. Shortly after the next face-off, Bob Mee carried down the ice and fed to Red Preston who was waiting at the goal mouth. Red quickly disposed of the puck into the net and left the Stoneham team with the wild desire to "end it all".

Stoneham's hopes were boosted several times in the last session, when Arlington players were sent off the ice for minor infractions of the rules. But at these times Stoneham seemed to lack the stamina that was needed for such occasions. Bill Dutton was the individual star for Arlington, with his sensational saves in the goal, while Ronny McKinnon did his bit for Stoneham.

The summary:
ARLINGTON—Preston, Mee, rw; Chipman, Flores, c; Keefe, Teele, Duffey, lw; Mee, Sakojan, rd; Lane, ld; Dutton, g.

SPORTS ADVOCATOR

Arlington beat Stoneham last Saturday, much to the dismay of the bookies. All their money is gone, due to the surprising upset.

The hockey team was again minus the valuable services of Bob O'Reilly, stellar defense man. His services were not needed, but they might come in handy tomorrow night when Arlington engages Melrose in the second play-off game.

Roger Keefe has the sole credit of sinking the only penalty shot of the year.

The games last Saturday were interrupted by an occasional private fight. It's all right with Yours Truly so long as none of the players get hurt.

The basketball team visits Medford tomorrow afternoon. In their last meeting Medford had the edge so Arlington will be out for revenge.

Don't forget your tickets for the Bill Lowder Testimonial. A great night is promised.

"Smokey" Kelleher refereed last Tuesday's basketball game and did a grand job. When "Smokey" sees a "wrong one" in a game you can bet your last cent that he is going to call it, regardless of who doesn't like it. "Smokey" is well-known to the local quintet and they all agree that he is the finest referee in the business today.

Basketball Team
Wins Over Melrose

The Arlington High quintet outscored a strong Melrose team last Saturday night in a closely fought game at the Melrose High School Memorial gymnasium, by a score of 30 to 27.

Young "Mugs" Corbett, former Woburn flash, led the Arlingtonites to victory by scoring 15 of the team's points. At the opening whistle he took the tap from McEwen and dribbled to the basket and planked one through the mesh for his first score of the evening. He also sank two more baskets in the closing minutes of the game when Arlington was seriously threatened by Melrose.

In the first half, Arlington led all the way and was not threatened by the Ell Ponders. Pat O'Brien led the Arlington team in its defense, and it was very seldom that Melrose could get its offense clicking. As the half ended Arlington put on a scoring spree that was quickly squelched by the half-time whistle. The score at the half was 16 to 7.

The second half was almost an exact replica of the first. Arlington continued to score heavily, with Melrose about 7 or 8 points behind. Near the end of the game Melrose took time out and after their refreshment put on an offensive attack that brought Arlington's lead down to one basket. Surprised at this sudden deluge, Arlington awoke from its trance and with Corbett again the hero, rolled up a score that made it safe for Arlington to "walk in."

Everett Speedsters
Take Arlington By One Point Margin

The Arlington High tracksters were defeated by a much overrated Everett team last Friday afternoon at the High School board track by a score of 39 to 38.

The third dual meet of the year for Arlington was closely fought and with the winner undecided until the finish of the next to last event. Cooke was Arlington's mainstay in the meet by scoring 7 of the team's points. Pantroy, a colored boy from Everett, was their big gun, putting away 9 points for his trophy bag. Before the relay, last event on the card, Everett led by 6 points and as it was impossible for Arlington to win the meet, both coaches put in some substitutes to give them a better chance to earn their letters.

The summary:

Awards Made at H. S.
Athletic Assembly

An athletic assembly was held in the auditorium of the old building of the Senior High School last Friday morning. At this assembly, school letters were awarded to those who have earned them in fall sports. Eddie Casey, former Harvard football coach, was the guest speaker of the day. He gave a very interesting talk on character building in sports. Paul Dorrington, football co-captain and class president, conducted the opening exercises and Principal Gammons then turned the assembly over to Athletic Director Downes, who introduced Eddie Casey. To complete the program, Mr. Gammons presented the athletic awards.

Those honored are as follows:

WORKERS SIGN FOR BOY SCOUT DRIVE

of Russell P. Wise of Arlington, chairman of the public relations committee, Robert Trask of Lexington, chairman of the solicitation committee; William H. Erkert of Watertown, chairman of the special gift committee, and Ernest W. Davis of Arlington, chairman of the citizens committee, will run for a week, during which nearly 400 solicitors will be calling upon the citizens of these towns for subscriptions.

The drive organization in Arlington is headed by Herman Gammons. Under him are 6 division leaders, Ellsworth E. Munro, William B. Cummings, John O. Matthews, Roland F. Norton, Homer Collins and Wyman W. Smart.

Each of these leaders will have under him 4 captains of teams of 5 men each. Among the captains and solicitors already signed up are: captains Arthur Robinson, D. J. Hurley, Winslow C. Sisson, Daniel Shea, Ernest L. Cooper, Paul Burke, Rodman Dickie, Kenneth Norton, H. B. Spong, W. H. Farnsworth, J. Kennedy McCormick, Ernest Snow; Captains George Greenlaw, P. K. Griffin, Walter Whitton, Raymond Morrell, Arthur Dodge, M. Arthur Monk, James R. Boyd, Lawrence Arthur, J. D. Pierce, Thomas Haggerty, F. Alfred Patterson, Ernest Johnson, Edward Maguire, George Severance.

During the week of the drive, which is also Anniversary Week of scouting in this country, there will be boy scout exhibits in three stores near Arlington Center and on the triangular plot of land between the Old Town Hall and the railroad track.

The exhibits in the stores will be put on by Troops 1, 6 and 7, while on the triangle will be a winter camp put on by Troop 8. These exhibits will be on every afternoon for an hour or two and will illustrate various phases of scouting.

"THEY GAMBLLED WITH DEATH"

This is just an ordinary street crossing similar to thousands of others in this country. Not long ago it was the stage for one of those typical "American tragedies" that dot our traffic maps.

A father and mother called at one of the little dress shops near the corner to get their daughter a graduation frock. The proprietress of the store noticed they were in a hurry. A few moments after her customers hastened out, she heard the sound of screeching brakes and running feet. When she looked out, she faintly at what she saw from her window. Days afterward, when asked to describe the scene, she became pale and ill.

The parents and child had continued their haste in trying to cross the street and were caught between two lanes of traffic by changing traffic lights. They grasped hands for assurance and protection. The child became more alarmed and jumped back directly in the path of an oncoming truck, drawing the mother with her. They were both struck and the wheels of the truck passed over the girl's chest. An autoist who took her to the hospital said she screamed constantly, horribly. She soon died of her injuries. The father, who had rushed toward his wife and daughter in an effort to rescue them, was struck by the same truck and dragged to the curb, mangled and dying.

Nor was this the end of the tragedy that the truck brought to this family group on their graduation shopping trip. The mother recovered from her physical injuries, but her mind has given way under the strain and she is now in an insane asylum.

It was a clear day when this tragedy occurred. Eye witnesses testified that the driver of the truck had the green traffic lights with him. This was his first accident.

Haste at traffic intersections is dangerous for both driver and walker.

The few seconds saved should be weighed against a possible lifetime of regret.

This is one of a series of actual happenings from the accident investigation files of the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company.

"CAPTAIN BLOOD" AT THE UNIVERSITY

Daring and debonair Peter Blood, immortalized by the novel of Rafael Sabatini, has been brought to life on the screen in "Captain Blood", a mammoth production which comes to the University Theatre on Sunday for four days. The gentleman pirate of fortune is portrayed by Errol Flynn, a young Irishman comparatively new to films, but who won this role, considered one of the most important of the year, over a score of famous actors after a series of screen tests. The leading lady, portraying a beautiful noblewoman who falls in love with the bold pirate, is none other than Olivia de Havilland who leaped to fame over night by her work in the Max Reinhardt production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." The picture is a powerful drama and a glowing romance based on the adventures of Captain Blood who turned pirate after having been condemned to slavery by King James II.

The gay new comedy success,

"If You Could Only Cook", is the companion feature. Hailed as one of the outstanding picture successes of the year, "If You Could Only Cook" stars Herbert Marshall, Jean Arthur and Leo Carrillo in one of the really human romantic comedies that warm the hearts and tickle the risibilities of all amusement lovers.

Due to the extreme length of the above program, the show will start promptly at one-thirty Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

As the tiny confederate who surrounds the Yanks with smiles, astounds them with songs and defeats them with dances, Shirley Temple returns to the screen in "The Littlest Rebel", which comes Thursday. Ably supported by a cast which includes John Boles, Jack Holt, Karen Morley and her old tap-dancing friend, Bill Robinson, Shirley plays her first great dramatic role in this screen offering. The story of "The Littlest Rebel", adapted from that ever-popular play, deals with happenings in Virginia during the Civil War.

"Collegiate", the hilarious musical featuring Joe Penner and Jack Oakie, is the companion feature. The picture tells the story of how Oakie inherits a girl's seminary and undertakes to reform it, along modernistic lines, with the aid of Penner, Sparks and Lynne Overman, changing it from a dowdy academic institution to a "charm school."

The program on Thursday, Friday and Saturday is recommended as excellent entertainment for the entire family.

Club Activities

Woman's Club

The question of "biennial legislation" is to be considered at the Arlington Woman's Club next meeting on February 20th at Robbins Memorial Town Hall. Mrs. J. Herbert Mead, chairman of the legislature committee, is urging members to inform themselves on this question, as a vote is to be taken by the State Federation at the regular mid-winter meeting on February 27th.

The regular Round Table conducted by the International Relations Committee will be held at Menotomy Trust Board Room on February 12th, at 10 a. m.

Zonta Club News

The President of the Arlington Zonta Club, Mrs. Charlotte Smith, will entertain the Board of Directors at her home, 792 Massachusetts avenue, on Monday, February 10th, at dinner.

The regular business meeting of the Arlington Zonta Club will be held at the Winchester Country Club Thursday, February 13th, with luncheon at 12:15.

On Thursday evening, February 27th, the club will celebrate its Fifth Birthday Party at the Winchester Country Club. After the dinner, Mrs. Roselth Knapp Breed, the well-known monologist, will entertain with readings.

CROSBY P. T. A.

On Wednesday evening, Feb. 12 the Crosby P. T. A. will hold its monthly meeting in the school auditorium. As this will be the 39th Anniversary of Founders' Night, there will be a Candle-lighting Pageant.

Mrs. Robert B. Parmenter will give a lecture on Normandy and Brittany.

Miss Kenar Hintlian, concert violinist, of the N. E. Conservatory of Music, accompanied by Miss May Shuman, will furnish the musical program.

The 4th grade mothers will serve as hostesses. The school rooms will be open to parents between 7:30 and 8 o'clock.

Junior Woman's Club

The February meeting of the club was held Monday, the 3rd, in the Junior Library Hall. As neighboring club Presidents were invited to attend, it was called Presidents' Night and proved to be one of the most enjoyable evenings of the year. The varied program consisted of brief talks by Mrs. Robert Parmenter, President of the Senior Club, and Mrs. Harold B. Wood, former president, musical program and play.

Annahad Avakian, violinist, accompanied on the piano by Linea Osterlund, played "Celebrated Minuet", Schubert's "Serenade", a Corinthus melody, "Forsaken", and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told."

"Cold Water and Cash", a comedy by George Savage, was delightfully presented by Eleanor McCormick, Jean Otley, Nancy Shedd, Irene Allison, Myrtle Pierce and Ruth Lorenz, coached by Virginia Hunt Winner and Miss Katherine Hart. Virginia Keefe and Betty Shedd assisted with the properties.

Arrangements for the Valentine Party to be held at the home of Mrs. A. D. Woodworth, 26 Norfolk road, on February 14, have been completed. Marjorie Rimbach is in charge of tickets. Proceeds will go toward making the junior conference to be held April 4 at Robbins Memorial Hall a success. A limited number of tables have been planned with bridge, monopoly and other games being played. Refreshments and dancing will follow.

The Handicraft Group meeting to be held in the Junior Library Hall February 17 at 7:15, promises to be interesting. Demonstrations from the Glover Studio are to be present to show the girls how to make leather gloves.

The next meeting of the book group at the home of Mrs. A. D. Woodworth, 26 Norfolk road, will be held February 11 at 7:30. The group is deriving much pleasure from its informal study of English authors.

St. John's Guild

The regular meeting of the Woman's Guild of the St. John's Episcopal Church will be held in the Parish House on February 10. Following the business meeting, Mrs. J. S. Hemphill of Watertown, chairman of the North Suburban District, will address the group on the subject, "Our Responsibility to the Diocese." Tea will be served by the hostesses of the afternoon, Mrs. Alfred Morse and Mrs. William Vincent.

Next Wednesday, Mrs. A. C. Fitch's Group of the St. John's Woman's Guild will hold a Desert Bridge at the Parish House. Mrs. Jansen will assist.

MISS AVERY

The vestry of the First Parish Church was well filled yesterday morning when Miss Avery discussed the Pacific problem, which she declares should have more attention. A review of her speech will appear in next week's Advocate.

Heights Study Club

The meeting of the Arlington Heights Study Club will be held on Tuesday, February 11, at 1:45 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Arthur J. Covell, 159 Park avenue. Mrs. Harry H. Stinson and Mrs. Walter J. Vaughn will be the hostesses at the tea preceding the meeting. Miss Esther Bailey will read a paper on "Ellen Fitz Pendleton—Wellesley College", and Mrs. Clarence E. Johnson will tell of "Mary E. Wooley—Mt. Holyoke College."

Varia Study Club

The next meeting of the Varia Study Club will be held on Monday evening, February 10th, at the home of Miss Doris Monroe, 114 Park avenue. A lot of fun is anticipated by the club members as it is going to be "hobby night".

BAPTIST NEWS

The Women's Union of the First Baptist Church will hold the regular business meeting in the chapel next Monday afternoon at 2:30.

The Highland Avenue Group of the First Baptist Church will meet on Thursday, February 13 at the home of Mrs. Aaron Wall, 16 Lockeland avenue. Mrs. Arthur Lamont and Mrs. Emma Parsons will be assisting hostesses.

DR. MCGILLICUDDY TO SPEAK AT BRACKETT P. T. A.

The Brackett P. T. A. will have a meeting at the school auditorium Tuesday afternoon, February 11, at 2:00 p. m.

Dr. Helen I. D. McGillicuddy, Secretary of the Massachusetts Society for Social Hygiene, will speak on the subject, "Character Training and Sex Education."

A one-act play, "Not Tonight", will be given by the mothers of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Mothers who care to bring small children will have them cared for during the meeting by responsible parties.

The study group will meet at the school Tuesday, February 18, at 8:00 p. m. Mr. Allen will speak on "Family Relationships."

Movies will be held at the school Saturday afternoon, February 8, at 2:00 p. m.

FORMER ARLINGTON MAN HEADS DANCE COMMITTEE

A mid-winter dance will be held Friday evening, February 21, at the Arlington Country Club, under the auspices of the Chauncy Tennis Club of Cambridge.

Robert Fleming, formerly of Arlington, will head the dance committee. He will be assisted by Vinson Smith, Lester Pitchford, C. James Ford, and Joseph Connors. The committee has secured full club privileges for the evening. Music will be furnished by Harry Knight, formerly of West Coast Inn, and his broadcasting orchestra. The affair is to be semi-formal.

SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower was given to Marion Holmes of 98 Brooks avenue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Jones of 57 Richfield road last Saturday evening. The house was beautifully decorated in pastels, and Miss Holmes received many beautiful gifts. Refreshments were served later in the evening with a decorated cake and a bride and groom for the centerpiece. There were forty-eight guests present, coming from Cambridge, Lexington, Roxbury, Somerville and Arlington.

UNIVERSALISTS TO WELCOME NEW PASTOR THIS SUNDAY

Reverend Rice comes from Minneapolis, where he has been for seven years in a large city church. He has served churches in New England, at Rumford, Maine, and at Beverly, Mass. He is a native of Ohio, attended St. Laurence University and Tufts Theological School. Mrs. Rice is a New England girl, of Rumford, Maine, and one who has considerable experience in the great problem of today—the direction of young people.

The Pastor's first service, next Sunday, will be in honor of the 26th Anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America and the 22nd of Troop 1, connected with his church.

The Church School plans to honor him by attending in a body, after their own session at 9:30.

The church is extremely grateful to the Rev. Francis W. Gibbs, D. D., who so graciously carried on during the search for a pastor.

Rev. and Mrs. Rice will be guests of the Samaritan Society and Mission Circle on Monday, February 17th, at luncheon and at the regular meeting of those ladies.

Reverend Rice is making the trip to Arlington by auto, an extremely cold journey, but he will be repaid by a warmth and cordiality which the people of the Universalist Church are capable of extending to any newcomer to the town.

and Helen F. Matthews at the close of the flawless demonstration of their teachings.

The story of "Smilin' Through" by Allan Langdon Martin is as well known to the public as any play screen. There is, therefore, no need of review, but no one who saw the high school's reproduction could escape the feeling of delighted astonishment at the truly amazing performances of every member of the cast and of Virginia Larson and Gordon M. MacLeod in particular. They had the leading parts, and to say that they bore all the earmarks of budding professionals would be an understatement. Both indicated a tremendous amount of talent, and in addition, Miss Larson is lovely to look at.

Real Flowers

The stage setting was as fine as ever erected on the town hall stage. It depicted a beautiful garden, and was exactly that. The fact that real flowers were used added much to the charming effect.

Supporting Mr. MacLeod as John Carteret, and Miss Larson as Katherine Dugannon, was a cast which was entirely without a weak spot.

Lorraine Miller, whose picture graced the first page of the program book, played the part of Mooneyen Clare, whose story suggested the title of the play. Miss Miller showed the experience gained in many other local productions and gave a beautiful performance. Robert Hancock, Jr., did a soothing piece of work as the kindly Dr. Harding. Charles R. Hammond, the leading man, showed a fine command of his part, and made a very favorable impression.

Martin Kadets delivered an excellent characterization as the rejected suitor, as did Ernest Benishol, Jr., who played a similar part in the first act, handled it very moved back to fifty years before. Barbara Fowler, who had a small part in the first act, handled it very capably.

Retrospective Score

Besides those already mentioned, Virginia Sullivan as Mooneyen's sister, had a prominent part in the second act, which depicted the interrupted wedding of a half century ago and was played on a dim stage. Incidentally, this retrospective scene was one of the most impressive of the play, life and motion, lovely costumes and the tragic death of Mooneyen, who was shot by her rejected lover while she was trying to protect her prospective husband.

Others who took part in this act were William Rowland, Rosella Gallagher, Donald Gillis, Juanita J. Peterson, Eugene F. Peterson and Irene Allison.

The play closed with a very clever bit of staging. Just before the last chess game Frank White was substituted for Gordon M. MacLeod as old John Carteret with hardly anyone noticing the ruse, and then Mr. MacLeod appeared as young John Carteret immediately afterward.

There were two other understudies besides Mr. White. They were Barbara Hobbs and Nancy Sanderson. The lighting was handled by Harry McKenzie; Eleanor Douglas, wardrobe mistress; Kathleen Hart and Laurence Cousins, head ushers; Doris LaFleur, programs.

More Finish

The high school orchestra was under the direction of L. Häsler Einzig and played with considerably more finish than formerly. The incidental music during the wedding scene was supplied by David Bloom, Shirley Bond, Robert Gneus and Malcolm Simmons.

The officers of the Arlington High School Dramatic Club are Barbara Fowler, president; Kathleen Hart, vice-president; Rosella Gallagher, secretary; Robert Wood, treasurer and business manager; Alfred Bitzer, scenery manager; Esther Comeau, property manager;

Elizabeth Courtney, publicity manager; Arthur E. Robinson, faculty business manager; W. Ray Burke, faculty treasurer. Lovell Ernst handled the advertising and lay-out of the program, which was printed by the Advocate Press.

G. O. Anderson & Sons furnished the plants.

Miss Larson

Miss Virginia Larson has had very wide experience in dramatics and reading. Starting at the tender age of 9 years, she studied at the Whitehouse Academy of Dramatic Art and at 11 years of age entered the Junior Dept. of Dramatics at the N. E. Conservatory of Music, under the capable instruction of Clayton D. Gilbert, perhaps the best informed instructor of dramatic lyric action in New England. Under his guidance, Miss Larson appeared in Oscar Wilde's "Birthday of the Infanta", given in Jordan Hall and was supported by a picked cast comprising many members now appearing professionally. The following year she gave her own recital in Recital Hall and played the lead role in "Daddy Long Legs". Her performance was acclaimed by Mr. Gilbert as perfect.

Miss Virginia Larson has appeared as a reader in several local clubs and churches, including the Zonta Club, Fraternal Club, A. H. S. Alumni Show, Rainbow Assembly. She was prize winner several years at Junior High East. She has also been instructor in Children's Theatre at N. E. Conservatory of Music.

PROMINENT CITIZENS POINT OUT NEED OF SCOUTING

and the community would benefit if they were able to do so.

The Cub Program, which is the official organization of the Boy Scouts of America for younger boys, is desired by an even greater number of boys. This program offers an equally valuable asset to the community.

There are at present more than 1200 Scouts and 25 Cubs in the Council Area. This number might well be doubled. Such a result can only be achieved by the organization of more Troops and Cub Packs.

We have made a careful analysis of the proposed objectives of the Council and are convinced that with adequate financial support, real progress can be made toward them.

Lack of adequate financial resources has been the greatest limiting factor during the past years.

While the amount to be raised by the coming campaign may seem large, we are thoroughly convinced that every item in the budget is completely justified; and we believe that in the light of juvenile delinquency figures locally and elsewhere in the country, the community will receive real dividends in reduction of criminal costs.

Because of our sincere belief in the value of Scouting we request that every citizen who is approached for a contribution give as generously as he can; and that any one who might not be approached will take it upon himself to send a contribution to the Council Office in the Old Town Hall, Arlington, or to any member of this committee.

DESPITE AFFLICTION

Arlington nearly escaped the infantile paralysis epidemic of last summer. Unlike several of the neighboring towns and cities, we were able to open our schools on time because of the rarity of the disease here. With that fact in mind, it struck us as peculiarly tragic that one of those few stricken by the disease should be a man whose livelihood depended largely on his athletic prowess.

We refer of course to Bill Lowder, the coach of the Arlington High School basketball team. Bill was taken seriously ill during the epidemic and was unable to take up his teaching duties at the beginning of the school year. Since then he has fought valiantly to regain the use of his physical faculties and has again assumed responsibility for training the local basketball players, in spite of the fact that he is still partially incapacitated by the disease.

Bill is a member of a prominent athletic family. He is the nephew of "Doc" McCarty, famous Arlington High School track coach, and his brothers have and are following in his footsteps on basketball courts of high school and college. He has made countless friends in Arlington, not only because of his popularity with basketball crowds, but because of his merit as a man. His determination to carry on in spite of his affliction is one measure of his character.

Inspired by the advance publicity for the President's Ball, which was held in Arlington last Thursday evening, a committee of Mr. Lowder's friends banded themselves together to sponsor a big testimonial to him. The proceeds are to send him to Warm Springs, Georgia, where it is hoped that he will fully recover the use of his arm.

We suggest that Arlington people take hold to make the testimonial a success, whether they care for basketball or not. Sports lovers will of course get a treat. Six teams, including the group of which Bill was a member when they won the state championship, will put on three fast games, and after that there will be dancing to the music of one of the best orchestras in this section.

The date set for the testimonial is Thursday evening, February 13, and the place is the new auditorium of the high school. Keep that in mind, but buy a ticket, even if unable to attend.

DEBACLE

We cannot help feeling sorry for Ralph Rich, the young man who is said to have stolen $1450 while in the employ of The Arlington National Bank. When he gave himself up to the police in Miami the other day, he had seventy-five cents in his pocket and absolutely nothing but heartache to show for the fourteen hundred or so he is reported to have admitted throwing away on dog and horse races.

But while we are being sorry for young Rich, it is not amiss to point out the fact that his debacle is our responsibility even more than his. When the people of Massachusetts voted in favor of horse and dog racing in the state election of 1934, they said that legal gambling would be the end of the "nigger pool."

Read your newspapers and find out whether the pernicious number pool is dead or not. Rich, it is said, got his taste for gambling after one or two "hits" in the number pool. Then he finished his banking career at the race tracks.

We need preach no sermon on the evils of gambling when a case like this is brought right home to Arlington. Remember Ralph Rich the next time the race track is on the ballot.

REAL DIVIDENDS

"A recent survey shows that many more boys would like to become Boy Scouts. . . . The Club Program, which is the official organization of the Boy Scouts of America for younger boys, is desired by an even greater number of boys."

These statements, taken from a letter among whose signers are Selectman Ernest W. Davis and Howard E. Cousins, should alone be a great incentive for Arlington people to respond generously to the annual Boy Scout drive, which is about to start here as elsewhere in Sachem Council.

If more Arlington boys want to be scouts or cubs, we should bend every effort to make room for them. It is a demonstrated fact that Boy Scouts do not become criminals, and that record alone is reason enough for the existence of the organization. Good citizens pay real dividends to the community.

It is fitting that the drive should start just before Lincoln's birthday, which is next Wednesday. While the Boy Scout movement was not conceived until long after Lincoln's time, the Great Emancipator was perhaps more than any other American the inspiration of the ideals of the organization.

"SQUARE CROOKS"

"Square Crooks" is the next production of the Park Players, in the Park Avenue Parish House, on February 25th. A recent Broadway success, by Nathaniel Edward Reed, and adapted by James Judge, it is said to be a comedy mystery of the very best type.

Barbara Fowler is creating the leading feminine role, opposite Floyd Battis, Jr., and Alice Powell and Clyde Hodgdon are two of the main supporting characters. Mr.

William O. Partridge is directing the production, which promises to be another "laughing success", as was "Three Corners Moon".

Here and There

With Frank W. Tucker sending his second broadside in the direction of the School Department this week, we don't like to add any note of criticism. Last year, it will be remembered, the Advocate took upon itself the responsibility of answering Mr. Tucker and defending the School Department. We feel more or less the same way this year, as far as Mr. Tucker's accusations are concerned, but there is another little matter which might be mentioned.

At the beginning, let us confess that we know not where to place the blame, but the fact is that a glaring bit of inefficiency has been brought to our attention. Some time ago the school committee voted to experiment with flooding school playgrounds so that small children in particular could enjoy the thrill of skating without the danger of getting wet or worse. It was found on investigation that only the soil of the Brackett School playground might be capable of holding water long enough to freeze, and it was decided to experiment with that one.

All this, we are informed, happened several weeks ago. At a later meeting it was discovered that for various and unimportant reasons, nothing had been done about the matter. As that time one of the members of the committee said that he would himself see the matter through.

There followed several days of record-breaking cold weather, twelve to be exact. On the last day of King Zero's reign, which was Monday of this week, the water was actually turned on and the playground was flooded. But it was too late. That night the snow descended and was succeeded by a good old-fashioned thaw.

So no one knows even now whether or not the playground will hold water. We wonder if the excuses of those responsible for the disastrous delay will hold water any better?

Yes, sir, the local political campaign is well under way. Such words as "traitor" and statements like, "They are biting the hand which fed them," are being handed about. Back-biting, we find, should be listed as Arlington foremost indoor sport.

The following appeared some time ago in the New York Sun: Today's Boondoggle

The Sun Bureau, Washington, Nov. 26

Although WPA officials are not aware of it, Locke School, at Arlington, Middlesex County, Mass., is about to become one of the most thoroughly renovated institutions of learning in the country. In a forty-page press release of Massachusetts projects that have been officially approved, the following items appear:

On page 7: "Arlington—Renovate Locke School building, $374."

On page 10: "Arlington—Renovate Locke School building, $1,202."

On page 15: "Arlington—Renovate Locke School building, $453."

On page 19: "Arlington—Renovate Locke School building, $944."

Says the WPA by way of alibi: "State administrators sometimes send these projects to us piecemeal that way in order to get more money out of us. We are supposed to catch these repetitions, but we can't always do it."

The Sun seems to imply that Arlington and the local administrator pulled a fast one. But Neil Peters says it ain't so. Those four items were for four separate and unrelated projects. The Sun's writer was just trying to be funny, that's all.

Rev. Grady D. Feagan tells a story which we thought was pretty good; see what you think of it: we are a little distrustful of our sense of humor these days.

A minister was reprimanded by one of his deacons for buying a new automobile. He was told that the purchase smacked of ostentation and was reminded that the lowly ass was good enough transportation for the Master.

The minister thanked the deacon and admitted his error. He said, "Deacon, if you will appear at my door tomorrow morning at nine o'clock properly saddled and bridled, I will try to comply with your suggestion."

Arlington in Review

From the Files of the Arlington Advocate

IN 1886

Fifty Years Ago This Week

As we go to press the thermometer stands at 12° below zero, and the north gale makes it seem even colder than that.

All the Boston papers published a story Wednesday concerning the drowning of a horse and a man on Spy Pond. Even the name of the human victim was published. The fact is that the Addison Gage Company had a gang of men and horses cleaning a section of the pond of snow in preparation for the ice harvest, which has since been made. One of the piles of snow became so heavy that the ice in the vicinity was sunk to some depth and one of the horses floundered in. That he and his driver were extricated with little difficulty seemed to make no difference to the Boston papers.

His Excellency George D. Robinson addressed the Massachusetts Press Association last week. Among many other things he said, "An incalculable amount of harm is being done in this country by a certain section of the press. If I ran the press of the country, and I am capable of doing it (laughter) I would punish criminals by making no mention of their exploits. I would not allow any disreputable man to look over my paper and see himself set apart as one of the wonders of the world."

Daniel B. Tierney, driver of Hose 2 of the Fire Department, left Monday for Springfield, where he will spend a month in the shop of the company which is making the new automobile chemical and hose wagon.

Chas. H. Gannett of this town, civil engineer, has been employed of late in making plans for a four-track subway under Boylston street. There will be a hearing before the committee on Metropolitan Affairs later in the month.

The adjourned meeting of the parish of the Pleasant Street Congregational Church was held last Monday and the officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Standing Com., Howard W. Spurr, Wm. A. Muller, Geo. A. Kimball; treasurer, Frederick B. Thompson; auditor, A. Winslow Trow; clerk, R. Walter Hilliard; collector, Howard D. Hawkins; music committee, Solon M. Bartlett, Rodney T. Hardy, Willard G. Rolfe. The church is in fine financial condition.

"Votes for Women" received a setback Tuesday when the students of Wellesley College, by a vote of more than 2 to 1, decided that the privilege of exercising the franchise contained no attraction for them.

We are informed that Philip A. Hendrick, who has served the town as selectman for the past three years, the last as chairman of the Board, does not propose to continue in this capacity, but would consider favorably the appointment as Town Counsel.

The ice tool factory of the Gifford-Wood Co. has been sold to the Arlington-Belmont Ice Co. The business is moving into its new great plant at Hudson, New York, about March 1. ## Lincoln's Birthday Recalls His Novel but Forgotten Invention

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, whose birthday we commemorate this month, included a bent for inventing among his many interests, according to the Inventors Foundation, New York City. After a trip on the Mississippi, during which his ship probably stranded several times, the man who was to be President of the United States at a great crisis in its history invented and patented what he described as a "new and improved method of buoying vessels over shoals." The date the invention was patented was May 22, 1849. The idea was to have a buoyant chamber on each side of the ship. The chambers were to be collapsible. As the vessel approached shall-

TESTIMONIAL TO
"BILL" LOWDER
 February 13, 1936

Get the crowd together, boys.
 And make the rafters ring;
 Let us shout for Lowder, boys.
 And all his praises sing.

There is not a finer man
 With more courageous heart.
 Infatigable did not down him
 He just took another start.

Think of all he's done for sport,
 All he's done to build you true!
 When you thought the game was lost,
 It was Bill who pulled you through.

It will fill his heart with cheer,
 And his hope and faith renew,
 It will add to his esprit,
 Knowing we will see him through.

Come on, boys, now all together,
 Let us make the rafters ring;
 Let us do the grand thing NOW.
 "Lowder!" "Lowder!" let us sing.
 Earl A. Ryder.

JANUARY BUILDING IS FAR AHEAD OF 1935 TOTAL

In January 1935 building in Arlington was nearly at a standstill, the total being a mere $9,420. But the month just past showed a decided turn in the tide, in spite of extremely cold weather. Permits were issued from the building department at Robbins Memorial Town Hall for a total of $47,195, which is $37,775 ahead of last year. The biggest item of the month was a permit issued to William A. Muller of Arlington for a forty-car garage at 23 Massachusetts avenue. The cost is to be about $12,000.

A detailed list of permits issued in January is as follows:

FIRST BAPTIST NEWS

Members of the Senior Christian Endeavor Society were the guests of the Intermediate Society of the First Baptist Church last Sunday evening in celebration of the 55th birthday of Christian Endeavor. The special speakers were Miss Irene Ashman, who gave a graphic word picture of the inspiration, beauty, and good times at Northfield; Miss Gurnhild Nelson, who recited some of the high-lights of the 35th international convention held in Philadelphia; and Miss Dorothy Johnson, who was privileged to attend the 9th World C. E. Convention held in Budapest. This world-wide, interdenominational organization of Christian Endeavor has grown from a group of about twenty-five young people meeting with Dr. Francis E. Clark on February 2, 1881, to an organization of over four million.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 9.

The Golden Text is: "The Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God" (I Corinthians 2:10).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace" (Romans 8:1,5,6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Solence and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To ascertain our progress, we must learn where our affections are placed and whom we acknowledge and obey as God. If divine Love is becoming nearer, dearer, and more real to us, matter is then submitting to Spirit. The objects we pursue and the spirit we manifest reveal our standpoint, and show what we are winning" (p. 239).

Why a New Order?

The Necessity of a Change as One Reader of The Advocate Sees It.

By Norman Talcott

It is the opinion of many of the most intelligent and best informed people that Capitalism, as we have known it, is well on the way out. Already it has disappeared, in a sea of blood, in Russia. In Germany, Italy and several smaller countries the efforts of its proponents to save it have resulted in Fascism, which has made it, even now, hardly recognizable, and which promises in the near future still more drastically to change it—perhaps destroy it altogether.

In this country its failure to function has brought about the unemployment of many millions of men and women, and has necessitated the New Deal, which has considerably limited it.

There are still many thousands of its beneficiaries who declare that it was not to blame for the depression, and hope, having hewed away the restrictions of the Roosevelt legislation, to patch it up and have it on the road again, running as gaily as ever.

I think these people are mistaken. There are many reasons enough to fill a sizeable book—for my belief. But, principally, I think the reason is that Capitalism is inherently able to function only in an economy of scarcity, yet of necessity must go on piling up the abundance which inevitably must choke it out of existence.

The reason for this, in turn, is that in its unceasing efforts to grow, it has availed itself of power—the almost limitless store of energy contained in coal, oil and water—and of the ever more intricate machinery which modern science and invention have devised to use that power for the accomplishment of human wishes, with the result that it is able to produce wealth in quantities that make the product of Aladdin's Lamp seem ridiculously skimpy by comparison.

In doing this it formerly employed the great mass of humanity in two capacities—that of slave, on the one hand, to do its bidding, and that of customer, without whom it is wholly lost, on the other hand.

This has brought about a situation that is most difficult. Considering the working masses as its tools, it is advisable to keep them as poor as possible, this side of starvation, not only in order to produce greater profits, but also to render them tractable and obedient. But considering them as customers, it is important to have them well-off and free to spend lavishly, for the modern manufacturer produces not merely for a few princes and millionaires, but for the whole great public.

If the capitalist is to compete with other capitalists, he must keep his costs, the chief of which is labor, down. He must use always more efficient labor-saving machinery. This means, of course, a cut in the number of people employed, otherwise it would not be "labor-saving".

But when he has done all this he finds that he has greatly reduced the buying power of one portion of his customers, and wholly impoverished another portion, so that they face starvation. As in a land of plenty, and above all, in a democracy, where the people can, if they really want to, run the government, starvation for great numbers is unthinkable, various relief measures are adopted, and the capitalist is taxed to pay for them. Thus not only has he lost customers but he must support them in what he considers idleness.

If, on the other hand, like E. A. Filene and other intelligent capitalists, he considers the working masses first of all as customers, he will make his wages just as large, and his hours as short, as possible. Thus he has a greater number of free-spending customers. Money flows back into his coffers. But the workers, having more money, become more independent. Many, who are wise, move out into the country, establish little farms where they can raise their own food, stock their cellars with a reserve supply, and be in a position to work more as they see fit. Furthermore, having more leisure, they have an opportunity to learn—and among other things, they learn how to increase their own power.

Inasmuch as a larger number of people have been producing, and producing in more efficient ways, the total amount of wealth has increased, and therefore the capitalist, as well as the worker, has become richer.

But beyond a certain point, the possession of wealth is not of much use. A man, for instance, might own all the land in the City of New York, but only a small portion of it would be of any use to him, unless there were a scarcity of convenient land. If there were plenty of land available, where people could live advantageously, his land would have no sale value, and sale value, not use, is what he is looking for. The same is true of other forms of wealth.

As I have said, there are many other forces and conditions which work towards the destruction of the Capitalism with which we are familiar. But, in my opinion, the dilemma which I have described is sufficient to paralyze it.

It will go, not because it will be overthrown in a bloody revolution, or even by burial in an avalanche of people's ballots. It will fall of its own weight. It will perish because it will have become unworkable.

What will take its place?

Local Men Promoting Week-End Retreat

A week-end retreat for men will be held at Saint Gabriel's Monastery, 159 Washington street, Brighton, over the week-end of March 6-8th, promoted by John B. Davidson, Robert J. Forrest, Thomas D. Kennedy, William F. McClellan, James J. Golden, Jr., and Francis Keefe of Arlington.

A closed retreat, it is explained, is distinct from any other religious or social activity in this; that the retreatants live for forty-eight hours in a world set apart from speed, worry, strife and universal unrest. The whole spirit of a retreat drives away distraction—the million annoying trifles—the persistent thoughts of business, family and social demands. It creates the atmosphere for quiet consideration of vital things and eternal truths.

The dread of monotony is dispelled with healthy relaxations. During the recreation periods the men chat, smoke and engage in various sports. The food in the dining room is always plentiful and appetizing. The privacy of one's own room gives a man plenty of time to rest, to read and to do a bit of serious thinking. Far from being dull, a retreat is one of the most varied experiences a man can enjoy.

PRESIDENT'S BALL

General Chairman P. Joseph McManus stresses the fact that the fund is still open and checks may be mailed to him, to treasurer Henry E. Keenan or to secretary Frank Lansing. He also re-states that all of the money realized will be spent to combat infantile paralysis in Arlington or at Warm Springs, Georgia. Seventy percent of the amount raised in Arlington will be expended under the direction of the Arlington Visiting Nursing Association for the infantile paralysis clinic of that organization, which had, incidentally, just exhausted the old fund for Crippled Children.

The party Thursday evening was a great success in every way. The entertainment supplied through the efforts of Joseph Barry, was the highest order, the grand march went off like clock-work under the direction of Chief Archie F. Bullock of the Police Department, and the general dancing which rounded out the evening was so much enjoyed that Duke Charles and his orchestra was asked to extend the time from midnight until one in the morning.

Following the entertainment, Chairman McManus welcomed the great crowd and very pleasantly thanked all who had a part in making the undertaking a success. Not the faintest political note entered the festivities. The only indication that the ball was in honor of the President of United States was a large birthday cake which helped decorate the stage, which was further brightened with potted plants and palms.

Included in the entertainment program were Vincent Bandale, banjo virtuoso, accompanied by Kenneth Berwell; George MacFarlane, radio tenor; Miss Huston, beautiful cornetist, accompanied by Miss Kiley; Barbara Doe, diminutive acrobatic dancer, accompanied by Miss Marion Edwards; Little Eddie Shine, tap dancer extraordinary; Joe Barry, himself, and Larry Jenkins, vocal duets; and Donald Hobten, versatile entertainer from the Club Mayfair. The Shine lad was encircled until he was apparently exhausted, but he recuperated rapidly and responded to requests of various groups all during the evening.

NARROWLY ESCAPES

in favor of his civil fingerprinting system.

Evaniuk was walking along the Concord Highway last Friday night between Park avenue and Appleton street when he was hit and mortally injured by an automobile operated by Arthur E. Farnham of Lexington, who has since been technically charged with manslaughter. The injured man was rushed to Symmes Arlington Hospital, but he died at six o'clock the following morning. The only things found on the body were two eyeglasses cases marked with the name of a Gardner firm and a worn and grimy welfare order slip on which the word "Mike" was the only thing legible.

The police investigated in Gardner and found that the oculist could not identify the glasses. They then went the rounds of the provision stores, and finally one clerk recognized the description and said he thought the man they were after lived in Templeton. The Templeton police responded that they most certainly did have a man missing and came to Arlington to make positive identification. In the meantime, the man's fingerprints had been sent to Washington, but there was no duplicate record there.

The deceased was born in Russia and had lived in this country for thirteen years. He was married, had two children and was unemployed. He had come to Boston the day he was killed, looking for a job.

STATE WIDE TAX PROTEST IN PROGRESS

Commissioner of Taxation has said one-third of all Massachusetts real estate is today foreclosed or fore-closable.

According to the local Taxpayers organization, the Taxpayers Associations in Massachusetts are fighting to restrict expenditures and consequent taxation. There is a great need for these Associations and they are actively functioning all over the State.

Individually, a taxpayer can do very little about the present disastrous conditions. But a great deal can be accomplished through combining the efforts of the taxpayers in fighting the present evils. The Arlington Taxpayers Association believes that an enlightened, intelligent and alert public opinion can always control its own government, local, state and federal. To further the endeavors and the aims of persons who believe this to be so, the Associations need every taxpayer's support. For in the final analysis the sole object is to maintain and develop an efficient government at the lowest possible cost.

If the local Association can in any way reduce local expenditures by $10,000, it has saved practically 15 cents on every $1000 valuation in town. Joining a taxpayers' association is not a contribution—it is an investment in tax insurance.

Dues of $1 per year are little enough for what can be accomplished in protecting the property owner from increased town, state and federal taxes resulting from unrestrained spending.

ARLINGTON TAXPAYERS ASSOCIATION

WOULD STOP NOISE OF EARLY MILK DELIVERIES

After the report of the secretary, Anna B. Callahan, and of the treasurer, also read by Miss Callahan, Vice-President William A. Platine, who was in the chair, called for the reading of a communication from W. N. Stevenson of the Precinct 13 Improvement Association. Mr. Stevenson was present and enlarged on his letter, explaining that in Winchester milk dealers had signed an agreement which provided that no milk be delivered before six o'clock in the morning, thus insuring unbroken sleep for the residents. He moved that the Chamber work for a similar arrangement in Arlington. Charles Sawyer amended the motion and it was finally voted to turn the matter over to the board of directors.

All of those who took part in the discussion of the motion heartily endorsed the plan. It was also stated by Frank Lansing, who had been working on the problem, that all the dealers with whom he had come in contact are eager to sign such an agreement.

May Stop Service

Mr. Lansing also reported for the transportation committee, of which he is chairman. He urged the Chamber to do all in its power to aid the Service Bus lines. The Service Bus routes may be discontinued in Arlington, because, according to the manager, the company is operating at a loss here.

Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes made a brief report on the Boys Club and promised more detailed information later when N. Y. A. and W. P. A. projects have been ironed out. He did say that $25,000 had been allotted to Arlington for work with the youth of the town. He further stated that there were at present 225 boys enrolled in the Boys Club and there was an average attendance of 150 twice a week.

Earl A. Ryder introduced William McNeal, who gave a talk on the postal service, beginning with the early days in Arlington. He mentioned the fact that James G. Keenan, only recently retired, was the first foot-carrier in Arlington, and he covered the entire Center district. There were two other men who made their rounds in buggies. Mr. McNeal himself came to Arlington in 1898 as the fourth carrier the town had.

He went back to Boston after a short time, however, seeking promotion, and was returned in 1912 to Arlington Heights in the same position he now holds. The speaker also mentioned the terrible postal conditions during his brief interlude in Florida during the boom.

He then went on to give some of the details of the service, pointing out that Boston's was probably the best in the country, the Boston postal district being the largest in the United States.

PATRIOTIC MASS MEETING PLANNED

ceive awards for the girl Home-owners' course as required by the Daughters of the American Revolution, and will prepare an exhibit of their work. Boy Scouts of Sachem Council will also be on the program, and the Senior High School Orchestra will furnish music.

This meeting is promoted by these patriotic societies in the interest of the young people of Arlington, and everyone who would help to develop boys and girls into fine citizens is urged to attend.

Miss Larson Entertains Members of Cast

Following the custom of past years, a party was held after the performance of the A. H. S. Dramatic Club's annual play, at the home of Virginia Larson, 18 Field road.

This party is always given for the cast of the play by the feminine lead in the play and as in the past, was greatly enjoyed by the members of the "Smilin' Through" cast, and also by many players in previous High School shows.

Miss Claire Johnston and Mrs. Helen Matthews, co-directors of "Smilin' Through", were in attendance and received the hearty congratulations of the 50 or more people present at the post-play party. A buffet supper was served by Mrs. C. O. Larson at the conclusion of the evening.

Arrested

Leo P. Danforth of 212 Forest street was arrested for drunkenness and operating under the influence of liquor last Friday night when his machine struck a car which was waiting for a traffic light change on Massachusetts avenue at Teel street. The other machine was operated by Russell H. Perry of Somerville. Both cars were considerably damaged.

Danforth appeared in court the following morning and pleaded not guilty. His case was continued to February 7.

laying stress on the head of the ticket and James R. Smith, candidate for the Board of Public Works.

In his own address, Mr. Gott stressed the fact that he had picked up considerable knowledge of local government as a member of the Finance Committee and its chairman for three years, a member of the Board of Selectmen for six years and Representative to the General Court for two terms. He predicted the election of the entire slate.

Among the other speakers were the chairman of the committee, Mortimer H. Wells, who introduced each candidate, and the following: James R. Smith, who has previously had two terms on the Board of Public Works; Clarence A. Moore, candidate for his fourth term on the Board of Assessors; Charles A. Hardy, candidate for re-election as town treasurer; Edward A. Bailey, who has been the Tax Collector for twenty-two years, and seeks re-election to that office (he called himself public enemy number one); Earl A. Ryder, present member of the Board of Assessors, and candidate for Town Clerk; Harold A. Cahalin, and James W. Kidder, candidates for the School Committee; Herbert M. Dutcher, candidate for re-election to the Planning Board; S. P. Basmajian, Planning Board candidate, and Daniel M. Hooley, candidate for re-election to the Park Commission.

Refreshments and a social hour will conclude the meeting.

CONCERT

Mildred Brookings, the soprano soloist who sang "Dich teure Halle" and "All'machtige Jungfrau" (Elizabeth's Prayer) from Tannhauser, was most enthusiastically received. The small audience present was moved to produce a big volume of applause after both her solos, which she sang in full, rich voice of beautiful quality. It might be said of Miss Brookings that the higher the note the richer her tone, which is most unusual in a soprano. Miss Brookings lives in West Medford and is the soloist at the Grace Congregational Church at Framingham. She has sung in many operatic productions.

The first half of the program was devoted to Brahms' Symphony No. 1 in C minor, and the last to the Overture and Bacchanale from Tannhauser and the introduction to the third act of Lohengrin, besides the solos of Miss Brookings, who was accompanied by the full orchestra.

George Livotti, concert master, did a splendid job—both as leader of the violin section and as soloist. He was aided considerably by Vincent Garabedian, many times the concert master, who sat at the second desk.

Quality Not Affected

The fact that the auditorium was small did not seem to affect the quality of the performance, either of the orchestra, which played with great precision and fire, or of the director who drew the music from his charges with even more than his usual fervor.

Verne Q. Powell was unable to sit at the first flute desk because his daughter, Alice Powell, was undergoing an emergency appendectomy at the same hour at the Cambridge City Hospital. The appendix had burst, it was found, but it is reported that Miss Powell is "doing as well as could be expected."

Mr. Powell sent another of Boston's finest flutists as his substitute—Alison Whitther, who gave a flawless performance.

Harvey Robinson, who used to play a rather timid second or third clarinet two and three years ago, was seated at the first clarinet desk Tuesday night, and his excellent performance was a great credit not only to himself and his teacher, Julius Mazzocco of the Arlington Conservatory of Music, but to the Community Orchestra, which has been his inspiration. The scores of all the numbers called for a great deal from the first clarinet, and Harvey played with all the confidence and skill of a long-tried veteran.

The ushering was done by representatives of Arlington Lodge, Sons of Italy, under the direction of Past Venerable Frank LoPresti.

FIRES

The firemen were kept pretty busy this week, not only with the much publicized rescue of a bed quilt from a roof, but with their regular business. Sunday night there was an alarm from box 553 for a fire on the roof of the house at 1160 Massachusetts avenue, owned by Louis F. Sonia and occupied by the Sonia family as well as the family of Albert Fowler. Slight damage was done.

Sparks from a fireplace ignited a rug in the home of the C. William Anderson family at 6 Carl road in the wee hours of Monday morning. But the firemen responded to an alarm from box 718 before much damage was done.

Later in the same day slight damage was done by fire in the home of Felix Roche at 328 Massachusetts avenue.

500 ATTEND HARDY P. T. A. CHILDREN'S PARTY

The audience was so pleased with the afternoon that the committee has been deluged with requests for another program. Mrs. Richard Fitzgerald, who is chairman of the committee, wishes to thank all who helped and to assure the children of another affair in the near future.

Founders' Day

Founders' Day of the Hardy P. T. A. will be observed with a candle-lighting ceremony on Tuesday evening, February 11, in the school auditorium. Besides the impressive candle-rite, the club looks forward eagerly to the talk on Community Problems to be given by M. Norcross Stratton, chairman of the School Committee. In these days when there seem to be so many puzzles to solve, Mr. Stratton has certainly chosen an interesting subject.

Leonard Wood of the Arlington Conservatory of Music will furnish music with an ensemble made up of his pupils.

Refreshments and a social hour will conclude the meeting.

SPANISH FLAVOR TO PERVADE ANNUAL THEATRICAL BALL

Robbins Memorial Town Hall is to be converted into a festive scene in Spain for the third annual ball of the Friends of the Drama, on Friday, February 14. The James R. Carmody orchestra, radio performers and formerly at the Fo-castle in Marblehead, will intersperse through the dance program a number of selections to emphasize the Spanish note. It is suspected that some of those who come will use the main decorative theme of the evening as an inspiration for their selection of costumes, which will make an additional Spanish flavor to the ball.

Dancing will be in order from nine until two o'clock, with the usual grand march coming at 10:30 p. m. The colorful parade will again be under the direction of Russell Curry, well-known dancing instructor of Arlington.

This year the Friends will award a special and peculiarly fitting costume prize of its own—a 1936-1937 membership for the most authentic theatrical costume, either lady's or gentleman's. A fine array of other prizes, twelve in number, have been donated by local merchant firms.

First and second prizes will be given both ladies and gentlemen for the most beautiful costumes. Similarly, prizes will be awarded for the most comical and for the most original costumes. These include a variety of millinery and other apparel, smoking articles and merchandise certificates.

Paul M. White, Jr., is head of the sub-committee on decorations. Katharine Hart has arranged for the prizes and Marjorie Manning, president of the Friends of the Drama, is in charge of refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Russell T. Hamlet are in charge of tickets. Curtis K. Pinkham is general chairman.

SAGAS OF THE SKIES

By R. C. Oertel

Just at bedtime, the telephone in the home of Roy L. Sawyer, Jr., executive officer of the Varney Air Transport, rang imperatively. It was a call from Frank Jones of Alpine, Texas, about 150 miles from El Paso. Nancy, the 10-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, was desperately ill of pneumonia and other complications, and only immediate attention at an El Paso hospital could save her.

Would the Varney Air Transport provide a plane to move the child to El Paso? There was no landing field at Alpine but, said Mr. Jones, there were facilities at Van Horn, 40 miles from there. If the transport company would send a plane, Mr. and Mrs. Jones would take the baby by car to Van Horn at daylight.

"We'll send a plane," said Mr. Snyder.

In the dawn of a gusty, drizzling day, Pilot C. H. Chidlaw took off from El Paso for Van Horn. It was dangerous flying weather. Vicious cross-winds swept the rain-ridden skies, and visibility was practically nil. But Pilot Chidlaw battled resolutely on against the elements.

At Van Horn he circled low searching for the flying field. There was none. Only a tiny local baseball diamond upon which it would have been useless to attempt either a landing or take-off. Beside the diamond stood a lone car and by the car a man, gazing steadily up at the circling plane. Pilot Chidlaw knew that in the car the suffering infant lay in her mother's arms and that the figure watching him so anxiously was the careful father. No matter what the risks, Pilot Chidlaw felt he must get the child into the plane and on to El Paso.

$219,000, $72,000 of which was reimbursed by other cities and towns.

He praised the C.C.C. as the best of all the federal relief projects. Donations are made mostly in food, fuel and partial rent—very little money is given. Mr. Cook then proceeded to give detailed figures of the breakdown of the budget into six divisions.

In the question period, former selectman Arthur P. Wyman paid high tribute to Mr. Cook's ability, especially in reference to maintaining proper records and data necessary for proof to make collections from other towns and cities.

OFFER SCHOLARSHIP FOR STREET TRAFFIC RESEARCH

The Planning Board of Arlington has been advised that there is an opportunity for a number of scholarships at Harvard University, during the coming year, in the course covering Street Traffic Research. The fellowships will be available to a selected group of candidates who have had the equivalent of a four-year course in an accredited college. This, the Board believes, is an unusual opportunity for anyone who is interested in this type of work and can qualify.

All applications must be filed before March 1, 1936. The course starts in September, 1936, and continues during the college year. Appointees must register in the University not later than September 28, 1936, in accordance with the general ruling of the University.

The secretary, or any member of the Planning Board, will be pleased to give further information on request.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Announcement has been received of the marriage of Jane Elizabeth DeJarnette of New York to Horace Delano Everett, Jr., of 44 Brantwood road, on February 1 in the West Presbyterian Church of Binghamton, New York. The groom is a graduate of Exeter in 1927 and Harvard, 1931.
